KINDERGARTEN GRADUATION CEREMONY

The Graduation Ceremony of the young scholars of Kindergarten was organized amidst much anticipation at Royal Global School on 5th March, 2016 at D’Royal Collosum. For the tiny tots, it substantiated as a milestone in their educational journey as they overrode the steepchases of ABC’s and 123’s to prove apt for Primary Schooling. The audience was left spellbound as their little wards put on an enactment exhorting Personal Hygiene and Sense Organs, a dance number on different modes of transport before signing off with a brilliantly composed song and dance on Animals in the Wild. Speaking on the occasion, the Chief Guest Mrs Manju Chaudhury, reflected upon generating consciousness among parents and caregivers about the importance of providing a boosting environ to the children wherein they could showcase their latent fortes and endowments – all they need is unconditional love and encompassing sense of security and in no time these little buds would blossom into beautiful flowers. This was followed by an interaction with the parents that proved informative as well as encouraging. The children were then awarded their Graduation Certificates by the Principal of Royal Global School, Mrs Anubha Goyal and the Primary Co-ordinator Ms Ajau Haralu. The happiness of the youngsters knew no bounds as they stood on-stage and looked radiant in their Graduation robes and caps.

THE TIGER FEST 2015-16

On 22nd April, Earth Day was celebrated with great gusto at Royal Global School that hosted the Tiger Festival in association with “Kids for Tigers”- a Sanctuary Tiger Program organized by Sanctuary Asia Magazine and Aircel as part of the ‘Save Our Tigers’ Campaign. The theme for the Tiger Festival this year was - ‘In Nature’s Wonderland’. The purpose of holding such an event was to create awareness among the youth about the importance of wildlife preservation and sustenance as well as focus upon the splendour of wild creatures and the wonderland they have created around us. The key objective of the Tiger Festival was to give voice to concerns, while empowering children with consciousness about environmental issues. An assortment of competitive and non-competitive programs such as Face Painting, Street Plays, Poster Making and the like were held wherein students from various schools from around the city participated. Mr. Bittu Sahgal, eminent conservationist and the founding editor of ‘Sanctuary Asia’ Magazine was the Chief Guest on the occasion. Through an electrifying speech, he stated that the onus of saving the earth now lies on the students and urged the students of Guwahati to work towards the conservation of ‘Deepor Beel’. He further reiterated that every Indian should undergo a compulsory training system that pertains to wildlife, climate change and social service that would run parallel with their academic pursuits so that they become conscious about their responsibilities towards the environment before embarking upon their careers. The Festival was also attended by Shri Pradipta Baruah, Assistant Conservator of Forests. Keeping in sync with the theme of the day-‘Trees for Earth’, saplings were planted in the school campus.

THE DABBAWALA PHENOMENON

“Unko achche kaam ka naasha hai because they feel proud that by supplying food, they are serving God ...” remarked Dr Pawan Girdharilal Agrawal, International Motivational Speaker and President of Mumbai Dabbawala Education Centre as he addressed an auditorium thronged by students of Royal Global School and Royal Group of Institutions on 9th April, 2016.

Dr. Agrawal stressed upon the significance of nine points – passion, commitment, consistency; 100% execution; accuracy; dedication; time management and complete customer satisfaction. Citing examples from the Dabawallas’ philosophy of ‘Work is Worship’, Dr. Agrawal urged the students to be focused and diligent and insisted on setting up a strong value system among the youth of today. Answering the queries of the students, Dr. Agrawal said that it is very important to be disciplined to master ones job. “Everybody cannot not be number one but everybody can be a master.”

Dr. Agrawal also addressed the parents of the students of Royal Global School where he reiterated the necessity of building a strong value system among children. The evening session was also attended by Mr. Vinod Kumar Pipersenia, Chief Secretary of Assam; Mr. Mukesh Sahay, DGP Assam; Provincial Father V.M. Thomas and Mr. Nirmal Bhattacharya, Members of the Board of Governors of the School.

WORLD BOOK DAY

On 25th April 2016, Royal Global School observed World Book Day with great fervor. At 10am, the entire school put down their pens and began reading in earnest. In order to inculcate a habit of reading and incorporate a comprehensive learning ambience, the Management accompanied by the Teachers have undertaken a Book Reading Initiative wherein students would be provided with twelve books, each of which is to be read over a span of a fortnight. The students would then be encouraged to participate in a variety of tasks that are aimed at assessing their level of comprehension pertaining to the given book. This exercise would then account as one of the parameters of Formative Assessment of the students. At the end of each book, an activity would be done to assess the students on how much they have read, the story line, group discussions and dramatization of the same. It is hoped that such an initiative would greatly aid in increasing the vocabulary of students, enhance their general knowledge and bring about a positive change in every child.

Keeping in tandem with International Labour Day, Royal Global School and Royal Group of Institutions felicitated their support staff on 30th April, 2016. In her address to the workers, the Principal of Royal Global School Mrs. Anubha Goyal, acknowledged the contribution of the support staff in the smooth running of the institution. She also thanked the management for coming up with this novel idea of celebrating Labour Day and remarked that this fortuitous occasion would henceforth be observed in the school with the same gaiety as Teachers’ Day and Children’s

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR DAY AT ROYAL GLOBAL SCHOOL

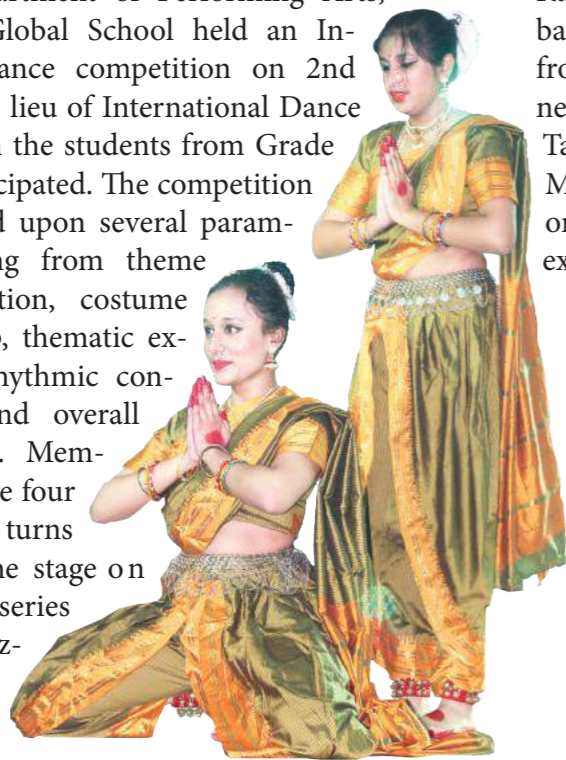

Day in recognition of the hard work put in by the workers .

The Principal of Royal School of Engineering and Technology, Prof. (Dr.) B.Banerjee stressed on the importance of dignity of labour. Later, a cultural show was organized wherein the members of the support staff showcased their talents followed by the distribution of Appreciation Awards to some of the workers in recognition of their efficiency and persistence all throughout the year. A citation and a cash award were handed over to the awardees.

INTER-HOUSE DANCE COMPETITION

The Department of Performing Arts, Royal Global School held an Inter-house dance competition on 2nd May 2016 in lieu of International Dance day, wherein the students from Grade IX-XII participated. The competition was founded upon several parameters ranging from theme of composition, costume and makeup, thematic expressions, rhythmic connotations and overall presentation. Members from the four houses took turns in setting the stage on fire with a series of trail-blazing performances. Akshita Rathi and Violina Das from Mother Teresa House bagged the first prize followed by Prachi Patwary from Vivekananda House who claimed the 1st Runners Up title while Prishita Nahata and Swati from Tagore House finished in the 2nd Runners Up Spot. Mother Teresa House clinched the winning spot once more as they were adjudged the Best House exhibiting Overall Performance.

MOTHER'S DAY CELEBRATION

God could not be everywhere and therefore he made Mothers.

Letter Writing Competition

On 4th May, 2016, Royalites celebrated International Mother's Day by endeavoring to express their love, gratitude and appreciation towards their mothers and took recourse to scripting heartfelt letters which they later presented their mothers accompanied by other gifts. The students came equipped with letter pads and scented pens and at the allocated period, began writing in earnest. Each had so much to express, it seemed as if they were on a mission to pent out their emotions through their writing appendages. While some acknowledged their mothers profusely for having provided them with unconditional love and support, others were penitent for the numerous occasions when they have hurt their mothers through their juvenile conduct and actions. However, each of them concurred that they owed not just their lives but also their identities to this human embodiment of God we lovingly call Mother. This competition was conducted as part of a formative activity in their current curriculum to imbibe an ambience of responsible learning.

Card Making Competition

Mother's Day was celebrated in Royal Global School on the 6th of May by the students from Kindergarten to Grade III. The children were encouraged to display their love and affection for their mothers through a card-making activity in their respective classes. The children displayed their amazing skills by preparing beautiful cards which they took along home to present their mothers on the special day.

BOHAG BIHU CELEBRATIONS

Rongali Bihu, popularly known as Bohag Bihu was celebrated amidst a festive ambience on 22nd April, 2016 at Royal Global School. Reeti Shankar delivered a speech on Rongali Bihu and sensitized the children with the significant features of this occasion. This was followed by a Quiz that was brilliantly conducted by Sumedha Kalita of Grade V wherein she posed questions pertaining to the cultural heritage of Assam to discover how cognizant the children are of their ethnic roots. Bhargav Patowari then infused magic into the ambience with his soulful rendition of the flute accompanied by Monalisha Gogoi who matched rhythms by beating upon the traditional Assamese Dhol thereby bringing down the curtains on yet another entertaining assembly of RGS.

INTER-HOUSE QUIZ COMPETITION

The first Inter-House Quiz Competition of Royal Global School was conducted by the Quiz Club on 14th May 2016 amidst great anticipation at the D' Royal Colosseum. During the preliminary round, 16 teams comprising of three students each fought tooth and nail for the top four slots. The audience was in for a scholarly indulgence as the auditorium was set ablaze by a witty quiz master, Anik Das, who stole the hearts of the contestants and the audience with his sheer confidence, wry humor and an infectious smile. Anik directed questions towards the audience and got them racking their brains. The competition then got underway with the quizmaster probing them with incessant questions that encompassed a multitude of topics – Indian Mythology, personalities, Sports, Regional Tidbits, International goings-on, Espionage, Current Affairs. Aditya Rathi,

Khyati Chetri and Shabnam Borgoyari from Tagore House bagged the First Position while Ayush Sah, Harsh Jain and Sohail Kazi

from Gandhi House were declared First Runners Up. The principal of Royal Global School Mrs. Anubha Goyal congratulated the winners and hoped that the coming years would witness more participation thereby creating an ambience of intellectual consciousness.

INVESTITURE CEREMONY OF THE PREFECT COUNCIL

"He who has never learned to obey cannot be a good commander"

-ARISTOTLE

The 4th Investiture Ceremony of the Prefect Council of Royal Global School was held on 6th May 2016, amidst an august gathering comprising of distinguished Chief Guest Shri Jaideep Singh Balhara, Director LGBI Airport, Chairman Mr A. K. Pansari, Co-Chairman Mr A. K. Modi, members of the School Management, Principal Mrs Anubha Goyal, Vice-Principal Mr Mrinmoy Kanti Das, Teachers, Proud Parents and scholars of the Institution.

The capacious program commenced with the lighting of the lamp followed by a Ganesh Vandana and a soul-stirring rendition of Saraswati Vandana to invoke the blessings of the Almighty. The Head-Boy Pinyadrith Tarafdar and Head-Girl Sunidhi Sharma then marched up to the stage where they were given their sashes by the Principal and their badges by the Chief Guest. The Principal then administered their oaths wherein they solemnly pledged to abide by the rules and regulations of the school and uphold the discipline and integrity of the institution with utmost dedication. They were followed by the other prefects representing different Houses and Activities, who solemnly pledged to serve their school with utmost honour and dignity and execute their duties with a sense of respect and care while focusing upon the overall progress of the institution. The School Flags were then handed over to the Head-Boy and Head-Girl by the Principal as a mark of responsibility. The same was handed over to the Head of Activities and Outreach by the Vice-Principal and to the Head of Sports by Mr Ashok Talukdar while the House Prefects were handed over their flags by the House-Masters and House-Mistresses.

After the swearing-in ceremony, The Principal of Royal Global School, Mrs Anubha Goyal addressed the gathering and remarked that true leaders are made not born. Leaders are a consequence of their decisions and choices and hence it is imperative for a leader to justify his leadership by incorporating the ideals he believes through his actions. She further reiterated that humility and self-discipline are the key tools of freedom. To be a skillful leader, one must be strong and not rude, bold but not bully, kind but not weak and proud but not arrogant. She extended her heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the elected prefects in fulfilling their responsibilities.

charmed his way through the audience's heart as he revealed that his aim is not merely to survive but to thrive with passion, compassion and vitality. He concluded his speech with a hope to unify the school and cross all hurdles to help Royal Global School emerge as the best school in the country.

In an electrifying speech, the Head Girl Sunidhi Sharma, who quoted Late A.P.J Abdul Kalam and stressed upon the need to salute and not pollute one's duty in order to become a leader in its truest sense. She also declared that her mission is to unify the school and achieve a culture of uniqueness. The Head-Boy Pinyadrith Tarafdar took over the dais and

The Chief Guest spoke about his life and how it has been the biggest teacher in shaping up his existence. An Engineer by profession who now holds the prestigious position of the Director of LGBI Airport, he stated that it is important to decide early in life what one wants to achieve on the future for once the goal is set, nothing can deter an individual from attaining it. But in order to be successful, one must choose his profession wisely and then work upon excelling at it. He extended his appreciation towards the management of the school for having invited him and providing him an opportunity to re-live his school days.

RGS MUN 2016

The third symposium of the Royal Global School Model United Nations 2016 was held in the school premises from 13th to 15th May 2016. The keynote speaker for this much anticipated event was Mr Pranab Bora who apprised the students about the state of affairs and happenings occurring right in our backyard. Such a revelation was made to bring home the fact that while we keep ourselves updated about the ongoings in the world, we practically remain ignorant about our immediate neighbourhood. In doing so, he drew a parallel between the globe and the north-east.

The Secretary General, Pinyadrith Tarafdar declared the RGS MUN open amidst a cheering audience and stated that this endeavor of theirs had shaped up after much speculation, deliberation and differences of opinions to finally transform into the Model United Nations conference. What ensued was a breakneck give-and-take of ideas and opinions between committees such as the Disarmament and International Security Committee, the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee, the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the The partition council, 1947 and the International Press Corps. Intense debates and discussion prevailed over issues like Spy Intelligence and Espionage, Harmful Traditional Practices on Women, Immigration Detention, The Partition of India and the like. The closing ceremony featured a video showcasing the labours the delegates put in to make this event a success.

RGS DELEGATION WIN MARIA'S MUN

A delegation of twelve students participated in Maria's Model United Nations Conference, 2016 from 20th May to 22nd May 2016. The students represented different countries of UNSC, SPCPOL, ECOFIN as well as different politicians of the Lok Sabha.

While Pinyadrith Tarafdar bagged the much coveted 'Best Delegate' award, Arundhati Agomacharyya, Ranaak Mittal and Nimisha Patra won the 'Outstanding Delegate' awards. Rupam Das and Ayusha Bhajanka were also awarded 'Verbal Mentions' for their significant contribution to their committees. The icing on the cake came with RGS being honored with the prestigious 'Best Delegation Award'.

Apart from individual delegations, the MMUN conference was also attended by seven leading schools of the city.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY ORGANISED BY STUDENTS OF LKG, UKG AND GRADE I

April

Spring is the time to cherish and celebrate all God's beautiful creations.

The budding scholars from Kindergarten and Grade I of Royal Global School infused a spirit of fun and gaiety as they set the stage on fire with an impressive assembly performance on Thursday the 28th April 2016 based on "SPRING"- the theme of the month. The Assembly began with a befitting tribute to the Almighty followed by a spring-song that was put up by the children of UKG. The program concluded with foot-tapping Bihu and Bhangra performances by the talented artistes of Grade I.

Thereafter, the Principal of Royal Global School, Mrs Anubha Goyal addressed the gathering comprising of parents and guardians and apprised them with the fact that the purpose and intent of having such special assemblies is primarily aimed at boosting a child's confidence and aiding them shed off their apprehensions blossoming into a confident individual and at the same time, keeping the parents abreast of the what their children are involved in at School.

May

"Take care of the Earth and she will take care of you."

Continuing with the novel venture of ushering forth the innate talents of the budding scholars of Royal Global School, a special assembly was organized on 26th May 2016 at the D'Royal Colosseum. The event was attended by proud parents who were eager to witness their young cherubs perform onstage.

The theme of the assembly focused upon saving our Planet. Each of the students enlightened the audience with some crucial information about the planet we reside in. While stating that Earth is the only planet which can sustain life, they also spread awareness of the fact that the earth does not belong to us, rather, we belong to the earth. Hence, every moment we spend here should be used carefully.

This was followed by a medley of song and dance as well as a foot-tapping rap number titled 'Reuse! Reduce! Recycle!'

The event concluded with a discourse on the need to save the earth by Prerona Bhuyan.

AN INTERACTIVE SESSION WITH Dr. SHAYAMA CHONA

On 27th February, 2016, Royal Global School, Guwahati played host to an interactive session at D'Royal Colloseum where Padma Bhushan and Padmashree Awardee, Dr. Shyama Chona, addressed the parents and guardians of Royalites and discussed various effective parenting measures. The Principal Advisor of Royal Global School, Dr. Shyama Chona is a name to reckon in the annals of Indian Educational and Social Welfare. The audience was acquainted with Dr Chona's passionate mission and achievements through an audio-visual presentation titled "Miles to go before I sleep". Best known as the President of the Governing Council of Tamanna Association, she unabashedly shared her past experience and work profile and humbly admitted that the birth of her daughter was the turning point in her life. The educationist narrated some of her challenging experiences as a parent and hoped that the parents are able to comprehend that the trials and tribulations of life are not solved through books, but through lessons that life has to offer.

Dr. Chona further reiterated that there are 3 E's which play a major role in the development of the child – Environment, Exposure and Education. She shared her principles with an aim to guide the parents in their journey of fostering and nurturing their young ones. Great emphasis was also placed upon sanskars that every family imbibes. At the same time, she also encouraged the parents to recognize diversity existing among children from the same family and appreciating their uniqueness. Parents can do great justice to children simply by celebrating differences instead of comparing their traits. What followed was a candid tete-a-tete with the parents wherein she also incorporated an activity through which one could gauge one's own parenting skills. Thus concluded yet another fruitful experience of effective communication at this esteemed institution.

WORKSHOP ON THE VERSATILE ROLES OF A TEACHER BY Dr. SUNITA CHUGH

Dr. Sunita Chugh, Consultant in HR, Management & Leadership and Faculty Member of MDI, Gurgaon conducted an interactive training session for the faculty members of RGS at D' Royal Colosseum on 31st March, 2016 to inculcate an understanding of the varied responsibilities essayed by an educator as well as the magnitude of the performance-partnership that prevails between a teacher and a student. Such a relationship constitutes one of the primary performance-based bonds in life. The program showcased a myriad of objectives that teaching entails namely, the importance of Reading in order to teach, the call for Self-Leadership among facilitators, use of Empathy in the learning scenario and the Art of Communication and Expression of Self.

Dr. Chugh decimated the functions of an educator from the perspective of authority which was further segregated into four tiers of role-play- a teacher as a Leader, Learner, Reader and Speaker. The challenge then, is to fuse emotions with learning and calibrate the child's feelings into positive outcome so that an ambience of achievement is created. The thought-provoking session concluded on a high-note as each trainee corralled their rejoinders and resolved to incorporate the given suggestions in their classrooms.

WORKSHOP ON QUALITY CIRCLE TIME

"Teach me and I Forget. Involve me and I Remember."
- Benjamin Franklin

A two day interactive training session was conducted for the teaching faculty of RGS at D'Royal Colosseum on 28th -29th March, 2016. The training piloted by Ms Maya Menon, Founder Director of TTF (The Teacher Foundation), aimed at interweaving a model behavior -management system through a continuous process of personal and social growth. The idea of an integrated Circular Eco-Systemic Model was introduced whose premise was designed at promoting positive behavior and respectful relationships through working on moral development within a structured Quality Circle Time approach. The significance of boosting one's self-esteem and morale was also stressed upon that led to an intrinsic involvement of all trainees as each concurred that in order to create an effective bond with their students, one must attain excellence in communication.

Ms Menon then discussed the Golden Rules one needs to imbibe while incorporating Jenny Mosley's Five Steps of Quality Circle Time that would greatly enhance cohesion and understanding between the facilitator and pupils through a mixed bag of different skills and differently designed activities.

What made the session stand out and maintain its vigor and magnetism was the kaleidoscope of diverse activities that Ms Menon incorporated that kept the trainees (teachers and students alike) observant and engrossed as it engaged every individual and gave them an opportunity to speak, listen and comprehend, thereby promoting a positive environment of relationship building, self-discipline and effective communication within the school eco-system.

A COLLABORATIVE SESSION ON IAYP

The Scholastic Session of RGS commenced with an interactive session with the children of classes IX-XII that was orchestrated by Mr. Bivujit Mukhoty, Programme Manager of IAYP on 6th April, 2016 wherein children were encouraged to share their views upon life and what they aspire. Mr. Mukhoty further reiterated that the aim of IAYP is to primarily motivate young people ranging between 14 and 25 years into adopting a balanced outlook that consists of voluntary self-development undertakings. This would aid them traverse through the challenging period of transition from adolescence to adulthood. A series of Awards would be rewarded at the completion of the program based upon the parparticipant's performance and commitment. The basic configuration of the Awards consists of four mandatory categories viz - Service, Adventurous Journey, Skills and Physical Recreation. The hierarchy of awards is further segmented into Bronze, Silver & Gold trophies. Participants must fulfill the mentioned mandatory sections in order to qualify for the awards.

The minimum period of participation is 6 months for Bronze, 12 months for Silver and 18 months for Gold. The session concluded on a high note of positivity with the students making a beeline to sign-up for this engrossing program.

MEIGO MARK'S VISIT

"Greetings! I am a traveller and a musician." With these beautiful words Meigo Mark, a 26 year old young man from Estonia made his presence felt when he visited the school premises on 16th May 2016. Mark is on a mission – he intends to traverse around 55 countries of the world, covering about 40,075 km (24,901 miles) which is equivalent to the distance of the earth's equator. This is precisely the reason why this 26 year old has been awarded the title 'Globe trotter'. He has covered 13 countries so far and then reached India. His next destination is Myanmar. He also revealed another dream of his offspring – to pen down his experiences as a travelogue that would reflect the knowledge he has acquired during his travels. His unusual yet inspiring journey of fulfilling his unique dream left the students spellbound. While addressing the gathering, he urged the Royalites to give vent to their dreams for that would bring about contentment and joy.

ARDUINO WORKSHOP AT GUIST

A group of senior secondary students from Royal Global School participated in an ARDUINO workshop organized by the Guwahati University Institute of Science and Technology (GUIST) on 24th April, 2016. Arduino is an open-source platform used for building electronic projects. It comprises of a combination of a physical programmable circuit board (often referred to as a microcontroller) and a piece of software, or IDE (Integrated Development Environment) that runs on a computer and is used to write and upload computer code to the physical board.

The students greatly benefited from this informative session and resolved to implement this newly acquired knowledge into their academic pursuits.

PRE-PRIMARY ORIENTATION

The orientation program for Kindergarten and Grade I was successfully held on 23rd April, Saturday 2016. The event commenced with a heart-warming audio-visual presentation showcasing some memorable moments from their days at Kindergarten followed by a sterling address by the Principal of RGS, Mrs. Anubha Goyal who briefed the parents about the school's vision, endeavour and at the same time, stressed upon the importance of a well-balanced upbringing for children that can be ushered forth by creating an engaging and interesting learning atmosphere at school and home. A riveting presentation was given by the Primary Coordinator Ajau Haralu on "Phonemic awareness and importance of Reading".

Parents were furnished with an orientation kit that offered useful tips on positive parenting, phonemic awareness, reading comprehension and the necessity of setting up reading time with your child.

An interactive session followed thereafter wherein parents expressed their opinions and concerns on matters related to their wards.

CAPACITY BUILDING WORKSHOP BY CBSE

Social Science

On 20th and 21st May, 2016, two facilitators of Royal Global School, Mahua Kanungo and Mawmita Dutta attended a two day 'Capacity Building Workshop on Social Science' organized by CBSE at Maharishi Vidya Mandir, Silpukhuri. During the workshop, the resource person Mrs. Neera Chopra, discussed the methods of teaching and learning as well as formulated various means of making Social Science an interesting and effective subject. She also stressed upon using Multiple Intelligence and Bloom's Taxonomy while teaching the subject in order to ensure that optimum learning takes place.

Mathematics

On 30th and 31st May 2016, CBSE organized a Workshop on Mathematics titled 'Capacity Building on Mathematics' at Army Public School, Basistha, Guwahati. Kakoli Bokshi and Ishita Mukherjee were the resource persons on the occasion. Akhil Goswami, Saumen Chowdhary and Subrata Goswami, facilitators from Royal Global School attended the Workshop. The Workshop was held for two days during which various problems encountered by the Mathematics teachers were faced and at the same time remedial measures were also discussed in order to do away with such obstacles in future and bring about an ambience of holistic learning.

English

On 23rd and 24th May 2016, CBSE conducted a colloquium on Capacity building in Challenging areas of English Core for the senior secondary teachers from various CBSE affiliated schools around the city in Army Public School, Narengi. The seminar was attended by Ms. Mrinali Chowdhary and Ms. Angshurekha Choudhury of Royal Global School. The Resource person Mrs. Radha Singh, presented a discourse on the various aspects of this versatile subject and also offered suggestions on generating interest among students towards the English language. Certain lessons that are considered challenging by the students were brought to the fore for extensive discussions and handouts were distributed for the same. Mrs. Singh further stressed upon the need to utilize the 'Blooms Taxonomy' as a method of instruction in the classroom so that retention of ideas and concepts is achieved for a prolonged period among children. Mrs Singh expressed her appreciation and acknowledgment towards the facilitators of Royal Global School who had adopted the aforementioned technique while teaching the long reading transcript of "The Invisible Man".

ON FOOD AND NUTRITION

On 28th May 2016, students from Grades IV and V attended an eye-opening interactive session conducted by ace nutritionist, Mrs Tina Baby Barua who was also accompanied by Dr Mayuri Borgohain. During the hour long session, Mrs. Barua covered crucial aspects of health and nutrition, she stressed upon the need to inculcate a healthy habit of eating the right and nutritious kinds of food in the absence of which one is likely to incur deficiency diseases and a poor immune system. She further apprised the students about the importance of adequate rest and sleep as well as intake of water and fluids. The session concluded on a high note of gaiety as the students became abreast of tips to remain healthy.

THE RIGHT WAY TO STAY FIT

Mr. Prateek Borbora, the Health Instructor of Gold Gym addressed the Morning Assembly of Senior Secondary School on 27th May 2016. In his speech, he apprised the students about the different fads and myths that prevail related to health. He encouraged children to sleep for at least nine hours regularly because sleep deprivation among today's youth has been found to be the main cause of mental illness, irritation and anger. He further stressed upon the fact that sleep helps build up our immune system and also aids us in sustaining a healthy life. He urged the students to persevere towards maintaining a healthy and sound mental health along with a healthy body. He also made the students understand the differences between sprinting and running, walking and jogging. He concluded his speech by an interactive session wherein he entertained various queries from students related to health and exercising and proper nutrition.

NEDFI WORKSHOP

On 28th May 2016, an assemblage of 12 students from Grades XI and XII Humanities were escorted to the NEDFI Auditorium, Dispur to attend an Interactive Session with Prof. Saugata Bose Gardiner, Professor of History at Harvard University and Member of Parliament, Lok Sabha. The Academician and Political aspirant delivered a discourse on an intriguing topic titled 'Looking East: Within and Beyond India. The session proved to be not just informative but it also enlightened the students with a great deal of information pertaining to our country as well as different nuances of history attached to it. The students were seen interacting and exchanging notes with the scholar with great gusto and excitement.

Vasudha, Devishi, Aachal Vaidehi and Prishita also received verbal mention. The MUN was very well structured. There were about 150 students from Guwahati, Shillong and Manipur attending the event. Ms. Bala Meenakshi Rajkhowa accompanied the students as Faculty Advisor from RGS.

THE LIVE PARLIAMENT SESSION

To sensitize students about the prevailing political scenario of our Nation, some prominent Prefect Council members of Royal Global School, Guwahati accompanied by their educator Dr. (Mrs) Banashree Bardalai, travelled to Delhi on 9th May 2016, to witness the live Lok Sabha session of the Indian Parliament.

Upon entering the building, the Prefects were guided by the Jorhat M.P, Shri Kamakhya Prasad Tasa towards the hallowed chambers of Lok Sabha where they attended an hour's session of the Indian Parliamentary Upper House. This proved to be an experience of a lifetime for them. Later, they were given a tour of both the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha buildings along with the building where the joint session takes place. During the course of their visit, they met several dignitaries such as Power minister Shri Piyush Goyal, who interacted with these budding leaders and apprised them about the latest venture he had undertaken to beautify the Kamakhya Temple of Assam in association with Neepco Power Plant. He also intimated his representative in Assam and notified that RGS students shall be his associate mediators from Guwahati thereafter.

The Royalites were further thrilled upon meeting Shri Subramaniam Swamy, MP Vijay Singh and another MP from Gujarat. The political exponents were quite impressed by our smart and quick witted Royalites and their impeccable behaviour was greatly lauded. Once seated inside the Lok Sabha, they witnessed the proceedings for an hour. During this time, their excitement knew no bounds as they set eyes upon the who's who of the political world - Arun Jaitley, L. K Advani, Gaurav Gogoi, Sonia Gandhi, Rajnath Singh, Kiren Rijju, Mulayam Singh Yadav and the like. They also witnessed them debating over myriad issues ranging from cattle insurance, border disputes to trade relaxation over Northeast borders. It is hoped that this experience would greatly aid them in fulfilling their duties and obligations towards their Institution.

VISIT TO SHISHU SAROTHI

On 13th May 2016, the Grade III scholars of Royal Global School were shepherded to Shishu Sarothi- a school for the differently abled. The objective of this trip was to sensitise the children towards these individuals who refuse to be bogged down by their physical incapacities as well as foster among the children a sense of humbleness and acceptance thereby paving a more inclusive environment.

The field trip also served as an extension of their program of study as they have been made abreast about people who are differently abled in Environmental Science. They witnessed a presentation that endowed them with crucial knowledge pertaining to interaction with people with disabilities. Equipped with this information, students now interacted with some of the children of Shishu Sarothi. Each of them also made a card for their new

WINDS OF CHANGE

Core members of the Crusaders- the Social Outreach Club of RGS, visited the Assam State Home, Guwahati on 28th May 2016 to inculcate the values of sharing and caring in children. A chain of activities has been arrayed throughout the academic session and this visit marked the beginning of their venture.

The children interacted with the inmates and came to know a lot about their lives and the circumstances in which they were brought to the home. Students of the Club could empathize with them and realized the luxuries they enjoy should not be taken for granted. This trip also gave them an opportunity to show their love and care for those who are lesser privileged and homeless.

4th INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION OF SPICMACAY

Royalites attended the 4th International Convention organized by SPICMACAY in IIT Guwahati from 9th to 15th May 2016. Different NGOs, educational institutions as well as individuals emerged from diverse parts of the country and world to participate in this series of intensive workshops. There were 45 categories from which participants could select any two.

The weeklong sequence of holistic activities maintained a demanding roster with participants beginning their day in the wee hours of the morning with different types of Yoga & Meditation exercises followed by 'Shramdaan' that entailed cleaning the campus to bring about a sense of belongingness. After a leisurely breakfast, the participants proceeded towards their respective areas of activities. The program permeated with joie de vivre through a cultural fiesta that prevailed till late evening wherein renowned artistes showcased their creative endowments. The various categories of events that Royalites participated in were Odissi Dance where they learned basic foot movements, Chhow dance, Badhni and Cinema appreciation.

GUWAHATI UNIVERSITY TECH-FEST 2016

Guwahati University Institute of Science and Technology (GUIST) organised the Debug-ging C/C++ coding contest- 'MOTHBALL' in the GU TECH FEST 2016 on 29th and 30th April 2016. RGS was the only school to qualify and triumph this competition after battling it out with different colleges and University students. This stupendous feat was achieved by the duo from Grade XII, Krishna Baheti and Raj Singh Gaur. The school team comprising of Ritik Mrinal Pandey and Mudassir Hussain secured the 9th place in the quizzing contest EX-QUIZ-ME 3.0 by contesting with 28 other Universities based teams. RGS also qualified for the second round of the 'Extreme Gaming' contest-GAME-A-THON after a massive 4-0 win over a University group.

GULMOHAR GIRLS' TRIP TO MAJULI -The River Island

On 12th April 2016, twelve girls from Gulmohar hostel accompanied by their Matron and Trip Coordinator, clambered into two SUVs and headed towards the river island of Majuli. Majuli Island, a 450 square kilometers stretch of fertile land is situated right in the centre of the Brahmaputra River in Assam. Once a land mass of over 1200 km, the island has now been reduced in great volumes mainly due to erosion and constant flooding of the mighty Brahmaputra. The small population of the locals earns their living on scant tourism and tribal weaving of brightly colored fabrics, all produced in-house on very basic looms. The tourists are attracted here to the 15th -16th century old temple structures called "Satras" which have now been accredited a Heritage status. One of the Satras, the Chamaguri Satra, is renowned for its artistry in mask making. The children visited a small room there, which held a number of different, breathtaking masks depicting Gods, Rakshasas, animals, birds and life sized male and female structures in dancing poses. The chief mask maker and organizer of the religious plays and dances that take place in the Satras during the festive season, educated them in the basic making of the masks and called one of his actor-disciple to give an impromptu performance wearing the masks. The whole session was very enjoyable and educative. It being Bihu eve, the host invited a troupe of Bihu Dancers to entertain who entertained the children with foot tapping numbers and brightly colored attire. On the second day of their trip, the girls decided to trek to the nearby village. Rough terrain, thick foliage and strange flora and fauna kept them occupied on the two kilometer trek and finally brought them to a village resplendent with an array of bamboo huts, elevated to a height of four to eight feet, depending on the level of the ground and the rising of the river. The girls proceeded to acquaint themselves with the local culture and their lingo and soon joined the villagers on a merrymaking spin. Upon their return to the resort, the guests took in the majestic view of the horizon and watched the sun descend amidst cool zephyrs of serenity.

The next day, the girls geared up for some cycling and exploration of the island. They drove into a village, borrowed some bikes and proceeded on a whirlwind tour of the island. and also into a shopping spree of local handloom merchandises. On their way back to the hostel, the children reflected upon their experiences in the fleeting five days they spent in a remote island. They felt privileged to have journeyed to such an unheard of places and come back enriched with so much knowledge, wisdom and unforgettable experiences. With Nature taking its course, this little island might not survive for long but it has left its indelible memories in these young minds forever.

STUDY TRIP TO HAJO

On 18th May, 2016, the seventh Graders of Royal Global School embarked upon an Educational Trip to Hajo to witness the intricate style and architecture of ancient monuments and shrines of India as well as educate themselves about the assimilation of diverse religions that prevail in our country. The outing was initiated with a much anticipated visit to the famous Hayagriva Madhab Temple – a shrine that embodies religious and cultural integration as both Hindus and Buddhist devotees through this holy reliquary to pay homage to Lord Vishnu and other deities. They learnt about the inception as well as the purpose of its construction. They were also made abreast of its significance as well as with the fact that it is one of the few shrines across the country that edify religious tolerance and welcomes devotees pertaining to all beliefs, castes or creeds. At the heart of the temple premise lay a formidable dew pond where resides turtles of varying ages. This sparked off the children's enjoyment further and their spirits were unabated by the heavy downpour that otherwise played spoilsport.

Their next destination was the Pua Mecca Dargah – a hotspot for tourists. Legend has it that a handful of sand(250 grams to be precise) had been brought from the Holy Land of Mecca and then buried in this spot that instigated the construction of the Dargah. The children were bubbling with excitement as they travelled through winding, steep grounds towards the holy shrine. Once there, they gathered information about the implication of this abode of sanctity offered their prayers with great piety. Thus concluded yet another enlightening tour for the Royalites wherein children acquired wisdom amidst fun and revelry.

TREKKING THROUGH NILACHAL HILLS

On 20th May 2016, some nature loving Royalites embarked upon a trekking expedition to Nilachil Hills. This venture was organized by an NGO called Eco Concept and initiated by Nilutpal Das, President of the organization. The trip was also attended by Professor Dr. Gajen Sharma who is a faculty member of the Department of Botany, Guwahati University. The expedition served as an instrument to celebrate International Day for Biological Diversity (IDBD) 2016.

The trek commenced with a short briefing about Biodiversity and the various topics it adheres to. This was done to sensitize the students with regard to their immediate environment. They were then divided into groups consisting of 3 members. With the requisite ambience being set up, each group was allocated a task of putting up a presentation based on their observations and relevant questions that may follow.

The excursion concluded with a small prize distribution ceremony wherein the meritorious students were awarded based on their group presentations. A special prize was also given to the 'Most Active Participant' and this prestigious title was bagged by one of the Royalites, Prishita Nahata.

WWF DEEPOR BEEL BIODIVERSITY CARNIVAL

Donella Meadows once remarked, "Biodiversity can't be maintained by protecting a few species in a zoo, or by preserving greenbelts or national parks. To function properly, nature needs more room than that. It can maintain without human expense, without zookeepers, park rangers, foresters or gene banks. All it needs is to be left alone." With such profound thoughts, a group of Royalites from Grades VI-IX embarked upon an insightful journey towards the famed sanctuary of the winged creatures - Deepor Beel. On 17th May, 2016, they attended a carnival organized by WWF to celebrate Bio Diversity Week. The theme of the carnival was "Save Deepor Beel and its Biodiversity". The venue seemed apt for such an event since it plays host to a rich gamut of flora and fauna. The carnival focused upon creating awareness about the importance of wetlands as well as sustenance of an appropriate assemblage of rare, vulnerable, endangered and endemic species of plants and animals. Around three hundred children from ten different schools from around the capital city exhibited their keen interest for the same. The children participated in a walking marathon, planted saplings and also presented street plays. Further, they indulged into an interesting interaction with the pride of Assam and Padma Shri Awardee Mr Jadav Payeng, popularly hailed as The Forest Man of India.

TRIP TO KAZIRANGA

On 28th and 29th May 2016, a medley of Royalites embarked on a fascinating trip to Kaziranga National Park in order to explore the beauty and diversity of the earth that nurtures us. This initiative was a collaborative venture between some prominent schools of the city and The Ecological Concept Club to celebrate World Environment Day amidst the lap of Nature. The trip ensued with the theme “Go Wild for Life” and its prime objective was to sensitize students about the rampant illegal trading that has been flourishing on the fringes of this famed sanctuary for wild animals.

On 28th May 2016, the campers set off on their journey in high spirits. Upon arrival, they participated in a highly motivating interactive session with Mrs. Mubina Akhtar, a renowned Nature Conservationist. Post lunch, they were divided into several groups. The task entailed each of these groups to conduct a survey into at least six houses in the nearby villages followed by an impromptu interview of the villagers. The students put in their best into this activity and during the course of their interview they not only got an opportunity to get acquainted with the prevailing culture and lifestyle of these natives but also get an insight of life as it exists within the confines of Nature. In the evening, they set off upon an exciting night trail during which time they were thrilled by the myriad sounds and sights one experiences inside the forest after sundown. The next morning, they set off upon a trekking expedition at the completion of which each team was asked to prepare a chart based on their involvement and understanding. The trip concluded with a small prize distribution ceremony wherein one of our students Aratrika Tarafdar was acclaimed the ‘Most Active Member’ thereby bringing down the curtains on yet another eventful trip.

My Mom

I think my mom is the best mom. Of course, all children think their mom is the best. Let me describe my mom for you. She is kind of on the short side. She has shoulder length brown hair and eyes that look like blueberries. She's not very strict and she sings very nicely. She gives me lots of gifts and takes me on trips all over the world. My mom and I have a lot in common. We both like travelling, baking together, reading, spending time outdoors and lots of other things. We also have glasses, spectacles, whatever you want to call them. Overall she's an awesome mom. She's my mom and I love her.

The Reason

The sky was cool and dry,
It was easy to hear the nature's cry,
Though wind was sweet and clear,
I had something to try.

Thinking more and more made it lack,
A feeling of getting it back,
Lost a time, was the love of mine,
Leading me to the same track.

But something has a change,
Inside me was a cage,
Where it was locked, a feeling totally blocked,
Containing the stories of my past's page.

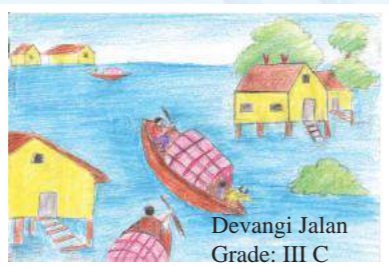

Still it was not too late,
To open the way to my heart's gate,
Cause there was still inside, written inbright,
The name on my heart's slate.

Wonderful Mother

God made a wonderful mother,
A mother who never grows old;
He made her smile as the sunshine,
And he molded her heart of pure gold;
In her eyes he placed bright shining stars,
In her cheeks fair roses you see;
God made a wonderful mother,
And he gave that dear mother to me.

The Beauty of Friendship

Friendship is a priceless gift,
It cannot be bought or sold;
But its value is far greater,
Than a mountain made of Gold,
For gold is cold and lifeless,
It can neither see nor hear;
And in the time of trouble,
It is powerless to cheer.
It has no ears to listen,
Nor a heart to understand,
It cannot bring you comfort,
Or reach out a helping hand.

THE HONEST TOUCH

They say, "Childhood is the best part of one's life. Well, mine was best maybe because it's one of the rarest childhood in the world as there are very few people who get to grow up as a child in the premises of an NGO's office. My parents are social workers by profession and they run the NGO called "Sadau Asom Gramya Puthibharal Santha (A state level voluntary organization working for the development of rural libraries). For this purpose, our family had to settle in the quarters of the office itself.

Almost every one of us made friends right when we went to school as toddlers. My case wasn't similar. I got my first taste of friendship neither with my school peers nor the neighborhood kids but with the little ones of the NGO. Unlike my family status, they were technically the children of the working class people and resided in the "Short stay home" (a government initiated shelter home) of the NGO. But when it's about friendship, you don't care about things like status and class. Because friendship is really priceless! Whatsoever, I always thank the Almighty for giving me such wonderful childhood buddies. When I look back at my past, the memories of my beautiful childhood reflect brightly in the core of my heart.

This great feeling of happiness is "the honest touch" that they gave me to cherish forever. 'Honest' in the sense of its purity. There were no conflicts, no competitions to leave each other behind, no backstabbing. Only pure friendship. It reminds me of a thought provoking story.

"One day," said the Persian Poet Saadi, "I saw a rose bush surrounded by a tuft Of grass."
"What!" I cried. "Does that vile plant dare to place itself in the company of Roses?"
I was about to tear the Grass away when it meekly addressed me saying, "Spare me! I am not the Rose, it is true; but from my perfume, any one can know that I have at least lived among roses."

Everyone out there knew about our friendship. Not a single day went without us playing together in the campus of the NGO. If I had to go somewhere, I needed them; even at my eating table I used to fight with Ma to get them so that we could enjoy the food together until we reached the 4th standard when they went to their respective homes. Even now they come to visit me sometimes. I still remember how some people used to oppose my staying with them. The reason behind this is unknown to me till this very day but it never affected our friendship. It is indeed awesome that we were so united at such a tender age.

The time spent with them, taught me a big lesson of life. Even as a two and half year old, I came to know about their lifestyle, their way of thinking, their importance in our society. It was not only about my friends but about all those working class people. Growing up with them for eight years of my life has shaped my views about the 'Kings' and 'Commoners' of the human civilization. Mingling with them may be judged by some as a needless venture, but I believe that it teaches us to communicate with as well as understand the so-called 'sections' of society. The best part is, these little things turn out to be the greatest joys for those who value them.

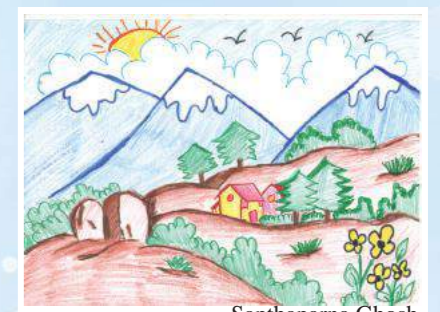

In this context, I would like to mention Arundhati Roy's 2002 Man Booker Prize awarded novel "The God of Small Things" in which she explained how the small things in life affect us greatly.

This is how I spent my childhood and each time I think about those good old days, the following words of Richard Bach mesmerize me, "Can miles truly separate you from friends for if you want to be with someone you love, aren't you already there?"
