Friends Forever

*We are friends forever true
We can make all dreams come true.
We are stuck like glue- Me and You
We can have the greatest fear
We can also make a secret plan
Each time you can count on me
This is how it'll always be.*

Inspired By You

*One day, walking down the street,
It so happened-
That, I saw some workers working hard.
In the sunny afternoon.*

*Without complaining about
The low wages they were paid;
Or the laborious nature of their job,
They were working hard, carrying
Loads of cement and bricks on
Their heads and shoulders!*

*Then it so happened;
That a thought struck my mind.
If they can work so hard
Without complaint or strife
Then why can't I?
So thank You dear workers,
For inspiring me so!*

ELF The Mythical Creature

An Elf is a mythical creature from Germanic Mythology 'Paganism' that still survives in North European folklore. Elves are often pictured as youthful-seeming men & women possessing great beauty who reside in forests and other natural places, underground, wells or springs. Elves have many forms-some are tiny or tall while some female elves often seem human. But many believe that they are empty from the back-much like a hollow tree. I wish I get to meet one someday in life.

Busy Market

*The market was crowded
The shopkeepers shouted
Children crying for toys
Waiting for infinite joys.*

*Women trying on bangles
Styling their hair till they tangle
Chiming are the bells
That shopkeepers are waiting to sell.*

*Crowded was the market
People roaming with baskets
People buying goods
For their livelihood.*

An Ugly Return Gift

*The environment has two faces:
Some are good, others bad.*

*The good side of Nature showers fertile rain
While it's brutal counterpart turns acidic.*

*Its placid love offers soothing winds
But its fury turns to hurricanes.*

*We are sustained by its resourceful sunlight
And also scarred by the wrath of Global Warming.*

*There are good and ugly sides to everything
Be it Mother Nature or Human Beings.*
