Message from the Director

Dear Parents, Students, and Members of the RGS Community

November has been an eventful month at Royal Global School—one that truly shows how vibrant, energetic, and emotionally rich a school community can be. As the early winter breeze touched Guwahati, our campus warmed up with learning, sportsmanship, creativity, and meaningful engagement. I am delighted to share a glimpse of what we achieved together.

We began the month by hosting the All Assam Inter-School Chess Competition, a remarkable event that welcomed nearly 700 young participants from across the state. The energy on campus was inspiring. Soon after, the much-loved Royal Premier League (RPL) – Season 2 brought the entire school alive with team spirit. Out of 12 enthusiastic teams and 15 thrilling matches, the Winged Conquerors, led by Gautam Sharma, lifted the trophy this year.

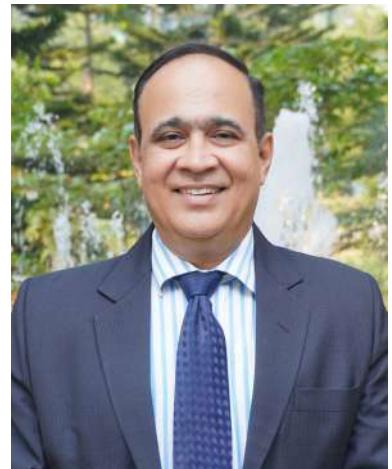

Our Girls' Cricket Team represented us proudly at the CBSE National Meet in Bhopal—a commendable achievement that motivates our younger sportswomen. Meanwhile, our campus celebrated Children's Day and Grandparents' Day with tremendous enthusiasm. These events reminded us how essential intergenerational bonding is for children's emotional and social development.

We also observed two culturally significant days—the 53rd Birth Anniversary of Zubeen Garg and the 14th Death Anniversary of Dr. Bhupen Hazarika—through music, competitions, performances, and storytelling. It is always heart-warming to see students connect deeply with Assam's cultural icons.

Our Community Service Wing deserves special appreciation. On Children's Day, our students generously donated part of their pocket money to provide books, stationery, pencils, and sweets to children in an orphanage and Nortap village. In another act of kindness, our students distributed warm clothes to support staff members. Acts like these reflect the heart of RGS.

Students of Grades 4 and 5 had an enriching excursion to Manas National Park, where learning came alive through nature and exploration.

While we celebrate achievements, it is equally important to address challenges. Despite the positive energy on campus, I am concerned to see a noticeable rise in aggression, impulsivity, and denial behaviour among some students-especially in the junior and middle years. Aggression in children often emerges from impulsivity, hyperactivity, unmet emotional needs, fear, frustration, or lack of boundaries. As educators and parents, we must work together to guide our children with empathy and firmness.

Below are a few strategies we urge families to follow consistently at home, which we are also practicing at school:

Young children respond beautifully to music. Simple lyrics that promote sharing, gentleness, and kindness work wonders. Stories help children understand emotions, behaviour, and consequences in a non-threatening way. Children thrive when they can talk openly. Encourage discussions on what behaviours are acceptable and what are not.

When a child becomes unmanageable, a brief “quiet time” near the teacher helps them calm down without shame. Play with your child, observe behaviour patterns, and spend uninterrupted time together.

Help children understand that actions have consequences. Avoid shouting; instead, use firm and calm explanations. Teach children to name their feelings-anger, sadness, fear, frustration. Art, play, journaling, and conversation help them express safely.

They should be engaged in research, discussions, projects, debates, and reflective tasks so that their energy is channelled into meaningful, future-ready learning.

Together, let us ensure our children grow into confident, emotionally balanced, and compassionate young people.

We are awaiting for the two big shows - Royal Symphony and the Founder's Day in December.

As your Director, I look forward to seeing our students shine on stage, on the field, and in the classroom-each in their own unique way.

In closing, We-parents and teachers-must continue to work hand in hand. Let us reaffirm our commitment to providing a holistic, interdisciplinary, value-driven education that helps every Royalite grow with confidence.

I look forward to meeting many of you during our upcoming events. Thank you for your trust and partnership.

Warm regards,

Dr. Arup Kumar Mukhopadhyay
Director

From sunset to sunshine: A night of fun and friendship

Neelam Kalita, PRT

A Night Stay Programme was organized on the 7th and 8th of November 2025 for the students of Grade 3 at Royal Global School. The event took place in the school campus with the aim of fostering friendship, teamwork, and independence among the young learners. Playing and spending time with friends forms an essential part of a child's holistic development. Keeping this in mind, a well-planned itinerary was designed to offer the children a blend of fun and learning experiences beyond the classroom environment. The activities included traditional Indian games, a refreshing early-morning trek, a creative craft-making session, an interactive session with hostel students where they shared hostel-life experiences and a hands-on sandwich-making activity where the children prepared healthy sandwiches and relished them after the trek, among others. The excitement among the children was contagious, while the parents experienced a mix of joy and nervousness as their little ones spent a night away from home-many for the very first time. The programme turned out to be a resounding success, leaving the children with happy hearts and wonderful memories to cherish for a lifetime. ♦♦♦

Unleashing creativity through Art

Afrin Yasmin, VIII A

The Creative Art Competition at Botanique 3.0, organised by the Department of Botany and The Botanical Society, Assam Royal Global University, proved to be a memorable and enriching experience for the participants. The event focused on the theme Nature at Its Best and encouraged students to explore creativity using only natural materials.

Afrin Yasmin of class 8A participated in the competition with great enthusiasm. The competition was conducted in two categories: Grades 6–7 and Grades 8–9. More than twenty participants took part, each creating their artistic interpretation of nature within a limited time of one hour using only eco-friendly materials. The challenge tested both creativity and adaptability.

When the results were announced, students from the school secured prizes in both categories. Afrin was pleasantly surprised when her name was declared as a winner. The joyous cheers of her friends made the moment even more special and unforgettable. Botanique 3.0 stood as a wonderful celebration of creativity, sustainability, and the deep connection between students and nature. She expressed her heartfelt gratitude to the organisers and her teachers for providing such a valuable opportunity—one that she will always cherish.

THE QUEEN'S COMMONWEALTH ESSAY COMPETITION 2025

Vani Baid, VII C

The Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition is the world's oldest international school writing contest, established by the Royal Commonwealth Society in 1883. It is held annually and is open to students from 56 Commonwealth countries. The competition comprises two main categories: Junior (under 14 years) and Senior (14 to 18 years).

Vani Baid of class 7C participated in the Junior category of the 2024 competition. She selected the topic based on an imaginative theme where Commonwealth leaders travelled to Samoa for the 2024 Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM), envisioned through the perspective of animals. Her essay creatively described what the animal CHOGM would look like, the types of animals that would attend, and the issues they would discuss.

Participation in this prestigious competition provided Vani an excellent opportunity to express her ideas and enhance her communication skills through creative writing. It proved to be a rewarding and enriching experience for her. Winning the Silver Award was a proud and memorable achievement. ♦♦

VYAKHYAAN 2025: A Celebration of Oratory

Divija Budhia, IX B

VYAKHYAAN 2025, the Inter-House Declamation Competition for Classes IX and XI, brought together young speakers from Mother Teresa, Tagore, Vivekananda, and Gandhi Houses to celebrate the power of eloquence, confidence, and conviction. As participants, we not only discovered the strength of our own voices but also learned from one another's perspectives and stories. VYAKHYAAN 2025 became a meaningful reminder that words, when spoken with conviction, truly have the power to inspire and transform. ♦♦

A Day When the Sky Came Alive!

Vridhi Harlalka, XI C

On November 6, 2025, I had the unforgettable opportunity to witness the Indian Air Force's spectacular Flying Display at Lachit Ghat, along the banks of the Brahmaputra River. The moment I arrived, I could feel the excitement in the air-the show marked the 93rd Anniversary of the IAF, and it was the largest air demonstration ever held in Northeast India.

As the display began, the sky transformed into a canvas of power, precision, and pure brilliance. More than 75 aircraft soared above us, each one adding its own thrill to the experience. I watched in awe as the Rafale and Sukhoi Su-30MKI roared overhead, their presence commanding and electric. But what truly left me spellbound was the Suryakiran Aerobatic Team, painting the sky with breathtaking formations and manoeuvres that showcased the IAF's world-class expertise.

Standing there among my peers, with the Brahmaputra shimmering beside us and the sky in motion above, I felt a deep sense of pride and admiration for our nation's defenders. It was an experience I will carry with me for years-a day when the sky itself told a story of courage, skill, and national pride. ♦♦

Speak your Spark- The Extempore Challenge

Novyana Bordoloi, VI D

The extempore speech competition held on 8th of November, was an enriching event for all the students of Royal Global School. As a participant, I felt a blend of adrenaline and uncertainty rushing through my veins as I stood on the stage, but the audience played a surprisingly grounding role throughout. As I walked onto the stage with only a few seconds to gather my thoughts, the expectant faces in front of me became both a challenge and a source of motivation. Their attentive silence pushed me to articulate my ideas clearly, while the nods, smiles, and occasional laughter offered instant feedback that helped me adjust my pace and tone. At that moment, the audience wasn't just listening—they were creating a shared moment of connection. My opponents were truly formidable—each speaker delivered their thoughts with confidence, clarity, and impressive spontaneity. Instead of feeling discouraged, their skill became a source of motivation for me; their strong presence on stage pushed me to refine my own delivery, think more sharply on my feet, and embrace the challenge with enthusiasm. By the end, the experience felt less like a contest and more like an opportunity for growth, fueled by the excellence of those I was competing against. ♦♦

When Learning Turns Into Insight!

Bhargavi Devi, XI Humanities

At Royal Global School, our class had the opportunity to present the chapter on Rights in the Indian Constitution, guided by our Grade XI Humanities teacher, Ms. Moushumi Bhattacharjee. What started as a simple assignment soon developed into an experience that reshaped the way the entire class approached learning.

Peer learning became the heart of this journey. Students exchanged ideas, clarified doubts for one another and connected concepts to real-life situations. Even the hostellers-who did not have access to their phones, played an active role by discussing the material early in the morning and contributing through teamwork. This collaboration demonstrated how learning becomes easier when minds work together.

Presenting to the class brought another realisation that when students step into the role of teaching, their understanding becomes deeper and more meaningful.

This experience enriched everyone involved. It strengthened confidence, enhanced communication skills and encouraged thinking beyond the textbook. Above all, it revealed that learning is most powerful when it is active, shared and filled with discovery and that knowledge grows stronger when it is built collectively.

What began as a classroom task evolved into a memorable journey of curiosity, cooperation and growth-an experience our class will carry forward with pride. ♦♦♦

Weaving Words: A Fun-Filled Spin-a-Yarn Session

Shanvi Agarwal, X C

Students of Grade 10, along with the History teacher, recently participated in an engaging and imaginative class activity known as "Spin-a-Yarn." This exercise brought a refreshing change to the usual lesson routine. Each group received a topic, and using the "spin" as starting point, students had to build a creative story around it. The activity encouraged not only to recall information from the textbook but also to blend it with own ideas, interpretations, and creativity.

What made the experience truly meaningful was the balance between theoretical understanding and imaginative thinking. By crafting a story from a historical theme, the class was able to understand the concepts more deeply instead of merely memorising them. Working in groups added another layer of learning and collaboration.

The activity aligned perfectly with the course, particularly the chapters "The Rise of Nationalism in Europe" and "Nationalism in India." Through storytelling, key ideas such as national identity, unity, collective belonging, and resistance against oppression were explored. Themes like liberty, equality, cultural revival, and the spirit of self-rule-concepts that shaped nationalist were connected.

Overall, the "Spin-a-Yarn" activity proved to be a fun, interactive, and enriching method of learning, allowing students to experience History with both knowledge and creativity.

Round Square Geography Lab Online Postcard Session on “Tourism-Boon or a Burden”

Mahua G. Kanungoe, PGT Geography

An online Round Square Geography Lab Postcard session on the topic “Tourism-Boon or a Burden” hosted by the Paradis International School, Romania on 13th November was attended by students from Grade 9 on behalf of Royal Global School. The 6 participants were Sanchi Nahata, Diya Sarawagi, Sia Sonthalia, Hrithvik Jain, Yashashwi Sharma, and Divija Budhia guided by Mahua G. Kanungoe, PGT, Geography.

The interactive session brought together students from 13 schools across the globe to discuss and reflect on how tourism impacts local communities, economies, and the environment.

Representing Royal Global School, our students focused on Kaziranga National Park, one of Assam's most iconic tourist sites. The presentation shed light on how tourism contributes to wildlife conservation and local livelihoods, while also emphasizing issues like habitat disturbance and pollution.

Following the presentations, participants engaged in small-group discussions where they shared opinions, exchanged ideas, and debated whether tourism truly benefits or harms local regions. The conversation was vibrant and insightful, encouraging everyone to think critically about responsible travel.

Towards the end of the session, all schools collaboratively drafted a policy proposal aimed at balancing tourism growth with sustainability. The policy included suggestions like promoting eco-friendly tourism, educating visitors, limiting crowding in sensitive areas, and involving local communities in tourism management.

The session concluded with a reflection round, where students expressed how the experience helped them understand the dual nature of tourism and the importance of preserving cultural and natural heritage. It was an enriching and enlightening experience for all participants. ♦♦

Royalites Spread Warmth Through Acts of Kindness

Dr. Neha Ray, PGT English

As winter approaches, our Royalites once again demonstrated the true essence of compassion and community. In a touching display of gratitude, students extended warmth to our dedicated support staff-pilots and helpers-by gifting them shawls and mufflers.

What makes this gesture truly meaningful is the spirit behind it. The students used the leftover pocket money they had contributed on Children's Day towards supporting under privileged children of Nortap village and Sishu Bhawan. Today, they chose to share that same spirit of giving with the people who care for them every day.

A small act of kindness can spark a great deal of warmth-and our Royalites proved that beautifully. ♦♦♦

Echoes of Celebration Across the School

Fun, frolic and festivity: Children's Day

Bhargavi Devi, XI Humanities

Children's Day at Royal Global School was a day painted with laughter, sunlight, and joy-a celebration that truly reflected Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's words: "the soul of India lives in the smiles of her children." From the moment the campus came alive, there was magic in the air-the kind only children can create. The red carpet welcomed students. Teachers cheered, handed out smiley badges, and some students walked in like tiny celebrities, while others whispered, "Is this really for us?" Every child felt special, seen, and celebrated. A floral tribute to Pandit Nehru by Director Dr. Arup Mukhopadhyay, Vice Principals Ms. Binita Jain and Ms. Anita Varma, and Head of Primary Ms. Caroine L. Hauzel added a graceful pause before the day burst into colour. The cultural programme, performed entirely by the talented faculty members turned the Colosseum into a festival of joy: dazzling dances, a hilarious skit, a heartwarming group song, a traditional-themed ramp walk and a soulful tribute to Zubeen Garg.

Honouring our guiding stars: Grandparents' Day

Mugdha Devi, VI A

An unforgettable day where joy blossomed, nostalgia returned and togetherness took centre stage. Royal Global School celebrated Grandparents' Day with warmth and splendour. The event began with a red-carpet welcome as students representing India's states, greeted grandparents with pride and affection.

The campus buzzed with activities-mini golf, bowling, painting, cultural performances, ball dance, Rajasthani dance and a lively singing room. Out door activities like cycling and horse riding added excitement, while friendly matches in chess, carrom, badminton, table tennis, pool and squash brought generations together.

A touching moment unfolded in the junior library where grandchildren prepared surprise handmade cards. At the Bagicha, professional dance shows and traditional foodstalls added charm.

The day concluded with a heartfelt tribute from the school authorities, honouring the love and wisdom grandparents bring to every child's life. ♦♦

Highlights of Sports Achievements– November 2025

Our students have showcased remarkable performance in the field of sports during the month of November, 2025. They have brought laurels to the school by excelling in both Inter House competitions and various Inter School events. Their dedication, discipline, and sportsmanship were truly commendable. The key achievements for the month are outlined below:

CBSE National Girls' Cricket Tournament 2025–26

Royal Global School takes great pride in announcing that four of our talented students represented the CBSE Far East Zone team at the CBSE National Girls Cricket Tournament held at People's Public School, Bhopal, from 25th October to 2nd November 2025. They were the only players selected from the entire North East, bringing immense honour to RGS.

The selected students were:

Heer Periwal (Grade VII)

Sanaya Maheswari (Grade VII)

Kaashvi Sarda (Grade VII)

Ananya Khatuwala (Grade VIII)

Their hard work, dedication, and sporting spirit have made the school proud. Congratulations to all four players on this remarkable achievement!

Royal Premier League – Season 2

The Royal Premier League (RPL) Season 2 was successfully conducted on the 8th and 9th of November 2025 at the school premises. The 7-a-side Tennis Ball Cricket League featured 12 participating teams, with a total of 15 matches played. Around 108 players, including both students and staff, took part in this exciting sporting event.

The twelve teams competing in this edition of the tournament were:

Royal Strikers, Knight Strikers, Boundary Bashers, Royal Centaurus, Winged Conqueror, Royal Thunders, Royal Mavericks, Royal Achievers, Royal Knights, Thunder Strikers, Royal Flash Falcons, and Royal Hunters.

Team selections were carried out through an auction process held prior to the start of the tournament after player registrations.

The league showcased exhilarating cricketing action with several close finishes. The grand finale featured a hard-fought contest between Winged Conquerors and Boundary Bashers. Ultimately, Winged Conquerors, led by Gautam Sharma, emerged victorious by defeating Pratik Mour's Boundary Bashers.

The champions were felicitated and awarded by Dr. Arup Mukhopadhyay, Director of Royal Global School. ♦♦
